

WHITE DEER SAN LORENZO

MOUNTAIN LODGE

Discerning travellers seeking romantic yet unique experiences will discover an enchanted world in the Dolomites amidst 17 hectares of private woods and meadows. At an altitude of 1 200 metres, the White Deer San Lorenzo Mountain Lodge – a former noble hunting chalet dating back to the 15th century – awaits its international guests. The owners Giorgia and Stefano Barbini have breathed new life into the stately listed building. The lodge, however, has not lost its natural rustic charm. On the contrary, handcrafted furniture and a simple, homely style ensure a relaxing and deeply romantic stay. Thanks to the Barbini's passion for hospitality, the many priceless experiences and this one-of-a-kind mountain retreat, guests truly feel at home.
